IKGPTU Celebrates 72nd Constitution Day

The Constitution Day was celebrated with full devotion and morality at I.K. Gujral Punjab Technical University (IKG PTU) on Friday. University Registrar IAS Jaspreet Singh attended the function as the chief guest. Deputy Registrar Dr. Sandeep Mehmi delivered the special speech of the day. During the event, all pay respect to the father & the architect of the Indian Constitution, Dr. Babasaheb Ambedkar ji. At the same time, making the copy of the Preamble of the Constitution in public in a big way, everyone was called to put it in their offices or work place. Deputy Registrar Dr. Sandeep Mehmi, who was the speaker, said that every year 26 November is a very special day for every Indian citizen. This is the day when the Constituent Assembly of the country duly adopted the existing Constitution. It is the Constitution which makes us realize the feeling of a free citizen of a free country. While the Fundamental Rights given in the Constitution give us our rights by becoming our shield, we also remind us of our responsibilities in the Fundamental Duties given in it. He called upon all the students present from the stage to read the speech given by Babasaheb ji a day before 26 November. According to the facts kept from the forum, in the year 2015, as the 125th birth anniversary year of Dr. Ambedkar ji, the architect of the Constitution, the Ministry of Social Justice and Empowerment declared the Central Government's decision to celebrate this day as 'Constitution Day', was notified. This day is celebrated to promote the sense of respect among the citizens for the constitutional values. University Registrar IAS Jaspreet Singh read out the Preamble of the Constitution. During this, everyone present in the meeting took an oath to abide by the Constitution. On behalf of University administration authorities, the Registrar, congratulated everyone on the Constitution Day. University's Associate Professor Dr. Satvir Singh, Deputy Controller Examinations Er. Sandeep Kumar Kajal, Deputy Registrar Paramjit Singh Gill, Deputy Director Corporate

Let's Pledge to Make Punjab as per Martyrs' Dreams: Registrar IKGPTU

Our independence belong to our martyrs. The dreams of the martyrs were self-respect, equality in all classes and prosperity. Today is the right time for us to work together to create a dream Punjab. Let's pledge to make a state, which our martyrs dreamt of. This message was read at I.K. Gujral Punjab Technical University Jalandhar-Kapurthala on Wednesday during an event organized to pay homage to Shaheed Bhagat Singh, Shaheed Rajguru and Shaheed Sukhdev. The event was organized by the NSS department of the university. This message of Registrar Jaspreet Singh, IAS, was read out and a call was made for its implementation. University officials, faculty members, staff and students pledged to follow the path shown by the martyrs and floral tribute was given to the martyrs. On this occasion NSS Department incharge Dr. Chandra Prakash told in detail about the great vision of Sardar Bhagat Singh at an early age. He also gave information about Shaheed Rajguru, Sukhdev and their family background. He also spoke about the various aspects of their sacrifice for the liberation of the country.

Dr. Satbir Singh, Dean Student Welfare Affairs, told the students about Sardar Bhagat Singh's becoming Shaheed-e-Azam. He shared the facts of how the country stood by the vision of these young martyrs. He encouraged today's youth to embrace the ideas of Shaheed Bhagat Singh in their personal lives. Meanwhile, information related to the museum at Sardar Bhagat Singh's native village Khatkar Kalan was also shared by various speakers.

Evergreen Plants Plantation Drive for Herbal Garden Starts at IKG PTU

A plantation drive has been started at I.K Gujral Punjab Technical University (IKG PTU) main campus to set up a herbal garden. IAS Rahul Bhandari, Vice Chancellor cum Principal Secretary, Department of Technical Education, has given instructions to complete this task in a month. While planting the seeds that bloom in the hot season of April-May, he has also asked the Horticulture Department of the University to distribute it free of cost in the rainy season starting after two months. The Vice Chancellor said that there is a vast area for green belt in the university, plantation of medicine plants along with normal trees and plants is necessary for the pure environment of the university, while they should also provide its crop to the surrounding rural area, so that people can also take health benefits from these medicine plants. He planted an Evergreen Ornamental Tree in the premises for the hot weather season. On this occasion, University Registrar Dr. S.K Mishra said that this responsibility is also important among the great responsibilities of educational institutions towards the society. Dr. Mishra talked about doing more work in future to protect the environment. The Horticulture Department of the University had a significant contribution in this plantation drive. University Deans, Faculty, Officers and other members were present on this occasion.
