Sub: Inviting Entries of Student Projects for Gandhian Young Technological Innovation (GYTI) Awards 2018.

Sir/ Madam

Applications are invited from students for the Gandhian Young Technological Innovation Awards. These Awards are given to student innovations in all the fields of engineering, science, technology and design.

It is a SRISTI (voluntary organization set up to strengthen the creativity of grassroots inventors, innovators and entrepreneurs engaged in conserving biodiversity and developing eco-friendly solutions to local problems.) initiative to foster youth-driven tech innovations. The Gandhian Young Technological Innovation Awards will be given in March, during the Festival of Innovations (FOIN), hosted by the office of the President of India, Rashtrapati Bhavan, New Delhi.

Gandhian Young Technological Innovation (GYTI) Award has successfully completed six years of its journey to promote originality, social innovation, industrial and ecological connect. It has so far recognized 220 innovators across the country. In the last few years, student teams from PTU have also won the prestigious GYTI Awards.

In light of the above you are requested to please circulate the information to all concerned students and motivate them to submit entries for Gandhian Young Technological Innovation (GYTI) Awards 2018. Interested students can apply for GYTI – 2018 at gyti.techpedia.in. Last date for submission of entries is Oct 30, 2017 (please refer to GYTI – 2018 poster for more details).

For any queries, you may call the undersigned @ +91- 9478098076.

With profound regards,

MS Bedi
