About the Workshop

The workshop is about our living (not just living with fulfilment but living with continuous fulfilment, which is the basic human aspiration). Deep down, every human being wants to live with continuous fulfilment as an individual and wants to participate in their family, society and the entire nature for a conducive environment, for the fulfilment of others. Education is expected to facilitate the realisation of these aspirations.

Education plays a crucial role in preparing the people for this. It provides for development of the skills required and it also plays a significant role in the shaping of one's world-view, mindset, perspective and values (the use or misuse of skills depends on the latter).

The value inculcation efforts in higher education in the last 15 years have shown the efficacy of the UHV approach. More than 40 universities in the Nation have adopted this approach as it has proven to be universal, logical, verifiable and in the interest of harmony (the wellbeing of all).

Adopting this approach in 2017, AICTE has taken the lead to materialise such education. It also aligns to the intent of the draft National Education Policy 2019, which is developed around a vision of education for

- . The full development of human personality and
- . The creation of a just and equitable society

A mandatory UHV-II course in AICTE's model curriculum is the first tangible input on values for the students. The Student Induction Program (SIP) based on UHV (UHV-I in AICTE's Model Curriculum) can provide an orientation to students for such a holistic education. Colleges are required to develop the requisite teaching capacity for both. As indicated in the Approval Process Handbook 2020-21, Each college must prepare at least 1 UHV faculty for every 20 newly joined students. Faculty must be prepared from every department/branch/discipline over the next three years.

To understand the basics of value education an online workshop is being organised exclusively for the Vice Chancellors of Technical Universities and University Coordinators appointed for coordinating the activities related to FDPs on Student Induction Programme.

This short, on-line workshop is specially designed for sharing AICTE's approach for inculcating universal human values and cultural enrichment.

The workshop will primarily cover a universal approach for value inculcation (proposals about the full expanse of human existence will be shared for exploration and verification). It will touch upon a universal approach for the enrichment of culture, literature and health.

All the sessions are connected to each other in a sequence. Therefore, please participate in all sessions. We trust you will find it fruitful.
