Expression of Interest (EOI)

Proposals are invited from Institutions/Companies for their empanelment to provide optional online courses to students of Engineering/ Pharmacy/ Management /Sciences for capacity building and improve employability. Like many MOOCs platform which offers online courses to students/learners, University has decided to prepare a panel of Institutes/Companies which can provide optional online courses to students of Engineering/ Pharmacy/ Management /Sciences. The sole objective of this empanelment is to provide a list to the students of Engineering/ Pharmacy/ Management /Sciences who want to take additional online course to enhance their capacity and employability in the field by teaching through industry people. Reputed Institutes/companies having enough experience in the field of online courses registered under Registrar of Companies/Societies/Trust can submit their proposals to Dean (Academics), IKGPTU, Jalandhar Kapurthala Highway, Kapurthala through post or through email at deanacad@ptu.ac.in along with details of courses, duration of course in days and hours, fees of the courses, proof of experience, etc.

The terms and conditions for the empanelment will be as per follows:

1. These courses have no credit, though these would be added to list of optional online courses only after the approval of concerned Board of Studies.
2. These courses should be either free or at nominal/reduced fees.
3. Only Indian Institutes or Companies would be considered for empanelment.
4. The courses are optional. Thus no relaxation would be given to students to earn his/her degree.
5. The certification of these courses would be given by the concerned Institute/Company, University will not provide any certificate for these courses.
6. The fees of course will be collected by the concerned Institute directly from students, University will not responsible for any dispute between students and company regarding fees, course and service provided and any other related issue.
7. The sole purpose of this empanelment is to provide a list of companies or institutions who are providing online courses for students thus they can opt it as per their interest.
